WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Last Fortnight of the "Gay Season" at the Capitol this Year the Saddest Instead of the Gayest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5, 1890.

On a street, south of beautiful Farragut Square, stand the tottering walls of the handsome house, which was so recently the happy home of Secretary Tracy. Before this grim and blackened mass, all flooded in to-day's glorious sunshine, has surged a sobered and saddened crowd, and with hearts that beat more slowly every eye is turned to the sashless window in the second story, as some voice says: "From that window the Secretary's eldest daughter and her little girl jumped; from that lower door was borne the almost lifeless body of the Secretary; and here upon the parking, the firemen placed the charred and dead bodies of Miss Tracy and her French maid." The recital of this tragic horror sickened me, and like one dazed, I turned away.

In the grand old east room of the White House, through the tightly drawn blinds of which filters the sunshine filling the room with a mellow, subdued light, stand the simple, black-covered coffins in which lay the forms of the victims of this cruel fire—the Secretary's wife and daughter—the mother killed by a fall from a window while endeavoring to save herself from burning, the daughter suffocated by the smoke in her effort to reach the room in which slept her parents. The Secretary himself was taken from the burning mass in an almost dying condition by Chief Parrie, of the fire department. To this heroic man Mr. Tracy owes his life.

Soon after coming to Washington the Secretary purchased the residence of ex-Postmaster General Dickenson, but finding it not large enough to meet the requirements of his hospitable ideas, he had a large addition made to it. He and Mrs. Tracy took so much pleasure and pride in the furnishings and appointments of this their new home, and everywhere were evidences of their good taste and refinement. They moved in and got settled just in time for the New Year reception.

Miss Tracy was a beautiful young girl, splendidly educated, and possessing a wonderful fondness and talent for painting. She had spent several years in Europe studying under the best masters. In the third story front room, which was to have been her own apartment when completed, stood a little white enameled bedstead, upon the headboard of which she had designed festoons of poppies tied with true brushwork, and as she had left them, no doubt reluctantly, when she stopped work, perhaps Saturday, and impatiently awaited the coming of Monday when she might begin again. Strange the flames that so marred the beauty of her body should have spared this little wooden thing upon which she had lavished so much care and skill.

Secretary Blaine's house is again the scene of mourning. Alice, his eldest daughter, the wife of Colonel Coppinger of the army, who was just recovering from an aggravated attack of "la grippe" was summoned to the bedside of her dying brother. From the shock of his death and the exertion of traveling, she suffered a relapse from which she had not sufficient physical force to rally. She was a devout Catholic, and her funeral took place from St. Matthew's Church.

Father Sherman, son of Wm. T. Sherman, and a cousin of the Blaines', officiated at the requiem mass, at the conclusion of which Cardinal Gibbons advanced to the altar rail and blessed the dead. She was buried at Oak Hill, in the same lot as that in which Walker Blaine lies. She leaves two fair-haired, bright-eyed little boys motherless. The shadow is there, "She hath the better part."

It is just seven years since her marriage with Lieutenant Coppinger was celebrated with such splendor in her father's magnificent home on Dupont Circle, now occupied by Chicago's millionaire dry goods prince, Mr. Leiter.

These deaths in two Cabinet families will put a stop to all festivities in official society. Only a fortnight of the gay season remains, and instead of being, as usual, the gayest, it will be the very saddest.

Already the superstitious begin to say only bad luck attends the occupants of the old-fashioned red house on La Fayette Square, occupied by Mr. Blaine and which he has fitted up and made habitable at such an enormous expense. It is large and airy, and admirably suited to the taste of the Secretary of State. It is within a stone's throw of the White House and a convenient walk to the State Department. It was in this same house the attempt upon Secretary Seward's life was made. It was afterwards used as a club house and from its doors issued Barton Key on the afternoon he met his death at the hands of General Sikes. After being shot he was removed from the side walk where he fell, to his rooms in this house, and there died. It was after standing vacant for some time that the Government rented it for offices for the Quartermaster General's Department. For several years previous to its being leased by Secretary Blaine, it had been tenanted, bearing upon its big front door a placard with the legend "for rent" upon it.

The Fifty-first Congress deserves the gratitude of the country for destroying the occupation of the filibuster.

A BIG GENTILE VICTORY.

THE SALT LAKE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS PASSED OFF VERY QUIETLY YESTERDAY.

The Liberals Claim the City by 1,300 Majority—The Mormons Concede it by 400.

The Mormons Running Behind.

Special to the Journal.

SALT LAKE, Feb. 10.—A light snow which fell last night put the streets in a very disagreeable condition to-day, though the sun is now shining brightly. Business in many portions of the city is entirely suspended. Up to 10 o'clock a very heavy vote had been polled, especially by the Mormons. Returns up to this hour, from sixteen precincts in four wards, give a total vote of 2,111, divided as follows: Gentiles, 965; Mormons, 1,146.

In the 50th and 40th precincts it is estimated that 50 per cent. of the registration had been voted by 10 o'clock.

As yet only two arrests have been made for attempted illegal voting—one Mormon and one Gentile. Everything is quiet and no serious trouble is anticipated.

At 12 o'clock returns received at Liberal headquarters from 22 wards give a total vote of 4,663—Gentiles, 2,385; Mormons, 2,278, a Liberal increase since 10 o'clock of 317.

The Gentiles now claim they will carry the city by 1,400. It is estimated that the Mormons have polled 87 per cent. of their strength, and the Gentiles 50 per cent. of theirs.

Mormons vs. Gentiles.

Special to the Journal.

SALT LAKE, Feb. 10.—The municipal election which has resulted in attracting the universal attention of the entire country passed off quietly to-day contrary to expectation. The city has been crowded for days with special police detectives and Deputy United States Marshals for the purpose of preventing illegal voting, which each party claimed the other would resort to. It was anticipated that an attempt to challenge and arrest some voters would create trouble which would result in riot and bloodshed. This, however, was not realized, though the excitement was so intense that half of the business houses closed, and the patrolled streets and thoroughfares are jammed with excited citizens who realize that upon to-day's battle depends the future of the Mormon Church as a political organization. Only six arrests have been made for attempting to vote illegally, and these were made without any demonstration.

Snow began falling early this morning and continued until noon, when the sun came out, melting the snow and turning the streets into rivers of slush. This did not deter voters, many of whom waded through mud to polling places, while hundreds of carriages conveyed voters to and from the polls. The polls closed at 6 o'clock and the Liberal leaders posted bulletins in the windows of their headquarters claiming a majority of 1,200. The news soon spread, and the Gentiles took possession of the city. Every Gentile building was decorated with flags and lanterns, and fireworks were sent up from hundreds of house-tops. Cannons boomed and bonfires blazed on every corner. Hundreds of men in line paraded the streets with drums and torches, howling like wild men over their victory. No such scene was ever witnessed in Utah before. The Mormons remain in doors and have nothing to say on the result except that the election was carried by fraud and that they will surely contest it. They admit defeat but claim the majority will not exceed 400.

At 10 o'clock the crowds upon the streets became so great that the street cars were compelled to stop running and all traffic is suspended. The excitement is increasing and the celebration will doubtless continue until morning. Notwithstanding the great excitement a spirit of good nature prevails. The saloons are all closed and not a single drunken man is seen on the streets.

Will be All Right Next Time.

Special to the Journal.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 10.—The beautiful residence of Senator Brice, at Lima, is being remodelled and improved. The alterations to be made will entail an outlay of a large sum of money. The fact that the Senator is now putting his house in order is taken as an indication that he intends for the future to spend more time in Ohio than he has done heretofore.

He will be here so frequently and remain so long with his constituents that his friends declare there will at the next election be no doubt as to where his legal residence is located. His vast business enterprises will of course call him frequently to New York, but when the Senate is not in session those who may want to find Brice will have to come to Ohio for him.

THE WILD WEST SHOW.

Amount of Its Receipts During the Paris Exposition.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—An agent of the syndicate of American capitalists which furnished the money to bring Buffalo Bill's Wild show to Europe has been here on his way home with copies of the book of their receipts in Paris during the exhibition.

He says that the show took in 3,000,000 francs, or about $720,000. According to the contract between Buffalo Bill and the syndicate the latter was entitled to 30 per cent. of the gross receipts, which would make their share exceed $200,000. Senator John P. Jones is a member of the syndicate.

A Large Cigarette Trust.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Cigarette Trust, which has already been outlined, has at last been organized. Lewis Ginter, J. B. Duke, Francis S. Kinney, W. S. Kimball and Charles G. Emory, the leading manufacturers of cigarettes, have filed articles of incorporation of the American Tobacco Company, at Trenton, N. J. The company will manufacture tobacco in all its forms and establish foreign depots. The capital stock is $25,000,000, divided into $10,000,000 of preferred and $15,000,000 of common stock. The owners of the respective plants will supervise them as before. By organizing the company the promoters of the enterprise hope to escape the name of trust. The principal office will be in Newark.

A Murderous Clergyman.

Special to the Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 10.—The Grand Jury returned an indictment to-day against Mrs. Elma Whitehead and Rev. A. F. Pettit, charging them with the murder of Pettit's wife, who died July 17th last of strychnine poison. Pettit has been in jail some time. He is a prominent Methodist minister and Grand Prelate of the Indiana Knights Templar. Mrs. Whitehead is a well-to-do widow.

Lieutenant Lawton, W. H. H. Llewellyn, of New Mexico; Brewster Cameron and Delegate Smith, of Arizona, protested earnestly against the removal of the Apaches to any point west of the Mississippi. Representative Symes (colored) made an argument before the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures to-day in favor of the free coinage of silver. He opposed the Windom bill.

The Senate.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—After Blair had spoken two hours on the educational bill it went over until to-morrow and the Vice President laid before the Senate a message from the President on the subject of the recent negotiations with the Sioux Indians recommending an immediate appropriation to carry out the recommendations of the commission. Referred.

A number of public building bills was taken from the calendar and passed. The Senate then went into executive session.

The Senate confirmed Jacob M. Copes as Postmaster at Phoenix, Arizona.

The Immediate Appropriations Necessary.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In a letter transmitted to Congress to-day by the President with the report of the Sioux Commissioner, the Secretary of the Interior submitted the draft of a bill embodying the recommendations of the Commissioner requiring legislation or an appropriations necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the Act. The President says it should be promptly made and be immediately available. The bill provides for the following appropriations: For 10,000 cows and 400 bulls, $400,000; for mule cows, oxen, harness, farming implements, houses (50 each) and for Indians taking an allotment, $380,000; for day schools, teachers and furniture, with provisions for the compulsory attendance of children, $50,000; for 30 school buildings, $30,000; for one year's interest on $9,000,000, $100,000; to pay for ponies taken by the military, $200,000; to pay Crow Creek Indians for deficiencies in allotment, $187,039; for extra beef rations, $100,000; to purchase lands for Sanies Sioux, $52,000.

Insane Through Fear.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Angry billows and fearful weather, in which the ship was in constant danger, so terrified Miss Chari Weinstein that her mind became unbalanced. She was a steamer passenger on the steamship Wisconsin, which arrived from Liverpool yesterday morning. She is 23 years old, a handsome Hebrew girl of slight build.

Her insanity took a violent form and last Friday night, while the steamer lay at quarantine, she eluded her watchers and stealthily approached the stewardess, Jane Johnson, who was sleeping in a chair near the girl's berth. With a heavy bed-slat she struck the sleeping stewardess a blow that stunned her. As she was about to strike again the girl was seized by two of her watchers, who, after a hard struggle, wrested the slat from her. She fought desperately, and would have got away but for the help of some of the immigrants.

It was found necessary to put her in a straight jacket. When she landed at Castle Garden, she was sent to Ward's Island. The physicians say she is hopelessly insane. She has a brother living at No. 36, Springfield, Mass., who has been sent for.

His Reward Never Came.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Frederick G. Hubbard, formerly a real estate dealer, and for twenty-one years employed in the Public Stores, shot himself in the region of the heart early on Sunday morning and died last night.

Mr. Hubbard was one of the first to lose his head under the Cleveland regime. He worked hard in Harlem during the last Presidential election, and was promised his old position back again as soon as President Harrison took his seat. Failing to secure it, Mr. Hubbard opened a small real estate office, but the business failed steadily and he grew despondent.

On Saturday evening he went home much depressed. At five o'clock the next morning his daughter heard a report, and entering her father's room found him lying across the bed with the blood pouring from a little hole near his heart. Near him lay a small revolver.

Blockade Raised.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—The Union Pacific lines which have been blockaded between this city and the Dalles by slides, were opened this afternoon. "We are rapidly repairing the road, and, in a few days, trains can reach Roseburg from here. A large force of men, in charge of Assistant Superintendent Pratt, of San Francisco, have just reached Ashland, having cleared the road through the Siskiyou. They will come north until they meet our force which is working southward between Ashland and Grants Pass."

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The vote on the question of the revision of confession of faith which was taken by the Presbytery of San Francisco last October, and which resulted against revision, was reconsidered by the Presbytery to-day at the request of a number of members who thought they had not had sufficient opportunity to discuss the subject. The ballot to-day again resulted against revision, the vote being 27 to 22. All members of the Presbytery who are professors in the Theological Seminary voted against the revision.

BREVITIES.

Mr. F. Reigelhuth will give a valentine social in Armory Hall next Saturday evening.

The Board of Pardons will not meet to-morrow, and no date has been fixed for its next session.

Truckee's new church bell was hung Friday, and was rung for services for the first time Sunday.

Before purchasing your kerosene oil read the advertisement of Whittier, Fuller & Co., in another column.

H. J. Borde, M. D., has been appointed a surgeon of the Southern Pacific company for Truckee and its vicinity.

John Maddrell, formerly of Nevada, and who was lately connected with the Los Angeles Tribune, is now connected with the San Diego Bee.

The Truckee Republican says traveling through the snow sheds is comparatively safe now as the snow is frozen hard and there is no danger of slides.

General C. W. Borton, who was called to San Francisco by the serious illness of his wife, returned yesterday morning, and reports Mrs. Borton much improved.

The telegraph wires over the mountains are nearly all in working order again. Thirty men have been employed for the past three weeks putting them in order.

J. W. Robinson, of Reno, who was private secretary to the late Senator Sharon, and who is now private secretary for Frank Newlands, is on a visit to San Francisco.

The total ore yield of the Con. Cal. & Va. mine during January was 4,070 tons, producing bullion valued at $94,075 71, of which $50,012 64 was gold and $44,063 07 was silver. The average yield in bullion per ton was $23 26, of which $12 28 was gold and $10 97 was silver.

Consumers of coal oil should buy the best oil, as they are not only the safest, but from their superior gravity and burning quality, are the cheapest in the end. The best brand in the market is "Extra Star Kerosene" as it is strictly water white and guaranteed 150° fire test. If you have not tried it, buy it and be convinced. It can be obtained from dealers all over the coast.

Idaho, Nevada and California Railway.

The Elko Free Press says an official of the proposed Idaho, Nevada and California railway says: "This road is proposed to run from Battle Mountain, Nevada, the junction of the Nevada Central and Central Pacific roads, to Butte City, Montana, and Lewiston, Idaho, via Tuscadero, South Mountain, Silver City, Kuna, Boise City, then north to Big Payette Lake, which will be the junction point of the branch to Lewiston; then the main line will continue northeast to Salmon City and Butte City, where connection will be made with the Manitoba railroad. At Lewiston, Idaho, connection will be made with the Northern Pacific. The route is now under survey by competent engineers, and we expect to begin work by April 1st, 1890. The officers are as follows: President, Chas. W. Hinchcliffe, Austin, Nevada; Vice-President, Governor George L. Shoup, Boise City, Idaho; Secretary, W. J. Hildand, Cleveland, Ohio; Treasurer, Samuel P. Dunn; East Aurora, New York; Chief Engineer, O. W. Irish, Reno, Nevada; General Attorneys, Baker & Wines, Reno, Nevada, and J. M. Williams, Cleveland, Ohio. Total length of line proposed, 600 miles, which will be bonded for $20,000 per mile. The bonds are already placed.

A Narrow Escape.

The Lyon County Times of the 8th relates this: J. H. Hepworth had a narrow escape from drowning last Monday afternoon. He was at work on the dredge, and his duties required him to use the small flat-bottomed skiff owned by the company. The current in the river is now very swift and the water is very high. The current caught the small boat and before Hepworth could jump out onto the dredge, he was whirled out into the center of the river and started down stream at a rate of about seven miles an hour. J. H. Rae and J. A. Hantoon, who were on the shore, saw what had happened, and grabbing a rope they ran to the railroad bridge under which Hepworth would have to pass. They reached this point just as the boat crashed broadside against one of the piles that support the bridge. Hepworth had presence of mind enough to catch hold of the timbers, and with the assistance of his friends climbed up onto the bridge. One side of the boat was crushed in when it struck the bridge. A rope was attached to the wreck and it was hauled to shore.

On the Warpath Again.

The Sacramento Bee of Saturday says: The Cyclone snow plow left the shops this morning for the "hill," where immediately upon its arrival it will be put to work on the sidetrack at Cascade, where the snow has not been disturbed since the blockade began. The plow cab has been reduced in size to better accommodate it to the snow sheds, and various repairs have been made to the machinery.

The early part of the Winter at the East was exceptionally mild, but our dispatches indicate that cold weather has set in with real earnestness in all the States east of the Rocky Mountains. Here the skies are clear and the air is bulky, and the prospects are that we will be enjoying an early and pleasant Spring while our friends on the other side are suffering from the biting blizzard and other visitations of that kind.

A RUSTLING CATTLE KING.

A Man Who Has Been in the Snow Over Two Months.

The Silver State, of Saturday last, says: Last evening N. H. A. Mason left here for the west, and everything being straight on the range, he will probably go to California. He has been in the snow since December 2, and traveled hundreds of miles by wagon and on horseback. Early in December he visited the stock range in which he is interested with Miller & Lux in the Malheur country, Oregon, and left everything in the best possible shape there. Thence he went to the White Horse ranch, inspected the range and made the best disposition possible of the stock. He was caught in the big snow storm of January 19th at his ranch in the northern part of this county and went to work to save as many as possible with the quantity of hay on hand. He came here when the snow was deepest and half the people were ill with la grippe, went up to Mary's river, in Elko county, floundered through three feet of snow gathering cattle and getting them to feed, when he went down to Mason Valley and attended to his stock there and afterwards went to Elko where the snow was deepest, from which place he returned here two days ago. He does not think the losses to date on any of the stock ranches on which he is interested will reach 10 per cent, and he says the losses on the open range even in Elko, where the snow was much deeper than here, will not be as great as many supposed, as he has seen last Summer's calves alive and kicking on the range where ten days ago there was not less than 30 inches of snow.

Jones' Luck.

Verdenal, the New York correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, writes the annexed.

"Jones' luck, as usual," remarked a visiting Californian the other afternoon to a New Yorker. Being asked to explain, he said: "I was referring to John P. Jones, the Senator from Nevada. He always stumbles upon fortune without half trying. Jones has always stood in with the boys, so when the boys hear of anything good they are willing to tell Jones of it. Last Spring one of his old Trinity county chums wrote him about a big mine that was being opened up in Idaho. He said it looked like another Comstock world beater. Jones gets letters of that kind frequently. Sometimes he looks them up and sometimes he doesn't. This time his instinct told him he ought to look into it, either in person or vicariously. He decided upon the latter, sent the letter to Brother Sam, who was bidden to proceed to the front, investigate and bond, if necessary. Brother Sam liked it so well that he took a short bond at $250,000, and while he was at it he purchased a piece of patented ground adjoining for $35,000. It was claimed to be an extension of the big mine. Well, Jones wasn't very flush of ready money about the time the bond became due, so Jim Fair sent him on a $250,000 draft, which arrived an hour before the time when the bond expired. Jones offered the draft, but the owners claimed that the bond stipulated 'gold coin,' and they wouldn't accept even a draft that was as good as gold. So Jones lost his bond and mine. That wasn't Jones' luck, but wait a moment, when the patented ground Jones had bought they took in four-fifths of the big bonanza. That was where his luck came in. Now, Jones is a pretty good sort of a man, so he called the bonanza owners together and showed them the cold, pizen facts, as old Gashwiler used to say, and, rather than have a long lawsuit, offered them $150,000 for their claim. They have it under consideration now. Meanwhile they have opened up a seventy-foot vein of Comstock, with ore that goes over $100 per ton. Think of it!"

The annexed is taken from the Lyon County Times:

The prospects for a good season in Lyon county are never better. The snows of this Winter have thoroughly moistened the ground and there is plenty of snow left in the mountains to furnish water next Summer. Good crops will be raised, the mills will run full for a greater length of time than ever, and the market for produce will be good. Stockmen will receive as much for the cattle they have saved as they would if they had more for the reason that the price of beef will be sure to advance next Fall. Without the drying off of a large percentage of cattle beef would be held at a low figure in the Fall. Now they will not have as many to sell, by half, nearly, but they will get double the price for those they have.

The Lyon County Times says:

One of our exchanges remarks that Mr. Newlands will have to find some other means of riding into the Senatorial seat than on the irrigation scheme, because we have all the water we will need in the State this year. Just such ideas as those have kept Nevada back for years. When we have water everybody thinks it will last for a lifetime and no means are provided for its storage. It is only in a dry season that it is good to talk about water storage. This is all wrong. We have had lessons enough, it would seem, to teach us that in time of abundance it is well to prepare for a famine. About Mr. Newlands' political aspirations, we are not posted, but the water storage question should be as interesting now as ever. Do not lose sight of the fact because we have an abundance for the present.

Abraham Lincoln, son of Minister Robert T. Lincoln, has for the first time been pronounced out of danger. Dr. Jones, of Chicago, who was the cause of young Lincoln's removal from Versailles, states that the malady was blood poisoning, and that he is in a fair way to speedy recovery unless a relapse should take place.

The Union Pacific railroad cleared over twelve and a quarter million dollars last year, equal to four per cent, on its stock and bonded debt. Concerning the quantity of water and wreckage represented by the debt, the earnings flatly contradict the poverty pleadings of the company.
